The Class of 1951

After four years of high school, we, the class of 1951, face a future which is much different from that which we faced as freshmen. As we look back over our years at Saint Mary's, we can see clearly, perhaps for the first time, the changes and events of importance which took place during our high school years.

We shall never forget those first days of our acquaintance with high school in the autumn of 1947. We were a bewildered group of freshmen entering Saint Mary's, the school we grew to know and love. After the ordeal of initiation, we were honored by the seniors at the freshman reception, "Senior Headaches." Because of our high representation on the honor and citizenship rolls we were hailed by Monsignor McGough as "the class of the future."

As sophomores we were firmly adjusted to the idea of being in high school. Although we were a large class, we showed our spirit and ability to work together by staging the most successful dance of the year for Father Hofstee's lepers at Tala. Carrying out the theme of "Carousel" in bids and decorations, we transformed Saint Agnes auditorium into a veritable circus with pictured clowns, tigers, and lions gracing the walls. This effect was made possible by the talented artists of our class. Dramatic ability was shown by other sophomores, who at the Christmas student body meeting, produced a radio play, "When the Chimes Rang" --- unique in its presentation. At the end of the year we won the coveted distinction of having our name engraved on the honor cup.

In our junior year our class was increased by the addition of a number of new students. With their help the spirit and originality of our class were augmented. For our dance for Father Hofstee, "Bamboo," we designed unusual bids made of real bamboo. It was in December of our junior year that Monsignor McGough celebrated the golden jubilee of his ordination. As upperclassmen we honored the seniors at the annual Junior-Senior Picnic at Marsh Creek, and the final social event of the year, the Junior-Senior Prom, "Stardust," was acclaimed a huge success by all who attended.

The long-awaited senior year finally arrived, and we returned to Saint Mary's for our last term. This year was marked by many changes. Sister Mary Esther, O.P. succeeded Sister Mary David, O.P., whom we had known as principal since our freshman year. We had not been seniors long when we were saddened by the death of our pastor, Monsignor McGough. Later, Father Lester Ehrmann was appointed pastor in Monsignor's place. Looking forward to the future with uncertainty, we redoubled our fervor in prayer at our last retreat in high school. The Senior Ditch Day, the Junior-Senior Picnic, and the Junior-Senior Prom brought us near our final days at Saint Mary's.

As seniors we leave Saint Mary's with a deep sense of regret. The changes that have occurred in the little world at Saint Mary's have been paralleled on a larger scale in the world about us. The Korean War has brought to many of us uncertainty about our future. Although the world into which we graduate is far different from that which we envisioned as freshmen, we shall always try to carry out the Christian ideals and principles which we have acquired during our years at Saint Mary's. We sincerely thank our parents, our pastor, and especially our teachers, the Dominican Sisters, who have helped us through our high school years.

VIRGINIA PEREIRA '51

JANET JEAN LANDI

Janet, sincere in her manner and gracious when anyone asks a favor, has spent four busy years at Saint Mary's. She held a membership in the Green and White staff, the Rally and Parish Activities Committees and the Executive Council. She was vice-president of her class as a junior and vice-president of the Student Body as a senior. The crowning point of her activities was her part, that of Our Lady, in the Christmas play.

VIRGINIA LOUISE PEREIRA

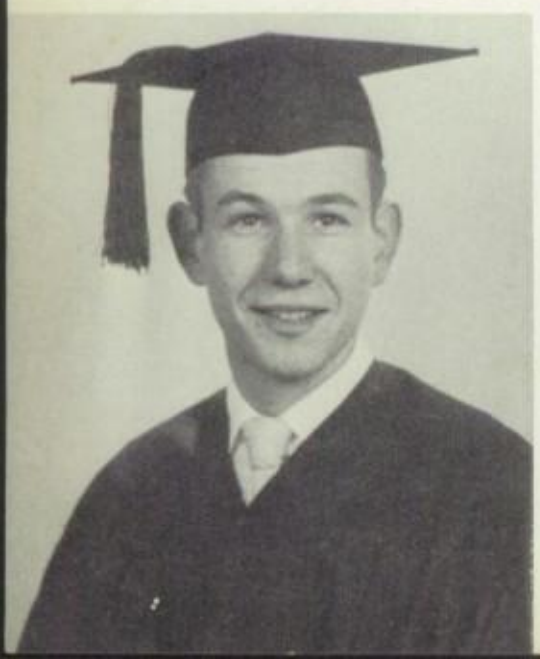
Whether she is preparing a lesson or working on a dance committee, everything Virginia undertakes is done with the same generosity and complete concentration. Although her freshman year was interrupted by a trip to the Azores, she has managed to maintain a four year membership in the Honor Society. In her sophomore year she was vice-president of her class and edited the sophomore Kettle. Virginia's experience and ability fitted her for the double office of secretary of the Student Body and editor of the Green and White.

DANIEL ARLEN HALVORSON

Dan's ready grin and steady glance give an insight to his character. Carefree yet serious, he has won the admiration and confidence of his fellow students by being chosen president of the Student Body. Besides showing ability in school government, Dan played varsity football and basketball, and edited the column, "Ramblings," for the sport page of the Kettle.

RICHARD DONALD NIELSON

Dick is an easy-going, level-headed person. He held the responsible post of student body treasurer, but he carried his responsibilities with ease. For two years Dick played "B" basketball. Ever-obliging and sincere, Dick's good-humored enthusiasm will be an asset in his future career.



PAUL FRANCIS HOLZAPFEL

Paul, a third year transfer student from Rhode Island, hopes to continue his studies at William and Mary College in Virginia. Besides keeping his fellow classmates amused, most of his extra-curricular energies have been spent as president of the senior class, chairman of the Publicity Committee, and member of the Rally Committee.

Red-haired Donald has been a faithful altar boy during his four years at Saint Mary's. He has taken part in the Catholic Federation by his membership in the Publicity Committee and his driving fellow classmates to various meetings. Upon several occasions Don set aside his stern duties as proctor to play the piano at rallies and at the Green and White talent show.

CATHERINE MARIE ALLEN

Catherine has been in Saint Mary's for four years. An avid baseball fan, she can quote scores and lineups without hesitation. She showed her ability and willingness to work with others as snapshot editor for the Green and White. Catherine belonged to the Parish Activities and Rally Committees.

JOHN JOSEPH BARKETT

John is one of the better-known members of the Syrian clan at Saint Mary's. As chairman of the Rally Committee he has presided over the rallies with spirit and vigor. His long black Packard has been the subject of many a joke at John's expense, but the means of transportation to out-of-town games and meetings for his friends. John plans to enter Santa Clara in the fall.

MARIE CAROLYN BARONI

Soft-spoken Carolyn is well-known around Saint Mary's for her quiet personality. When she was a sophomore, she, with the help of her classmates, helped with the planning and operating of the telegraph booth at the Christmas Bazaar. As a senior, her unassuming presence was a great help at Mission Committee dances and food sales.

JUNE CAROLYN BARSOTTI

June is tall and straight, and her long blonde hair gives her a look of distinction. June's typing could always be depended upon to help the Kettle staff meet its deadline. Her other extra-curricular activities have been taking part in skits for the rallies and collecting toys at Christmas time for underprivileged children.

KATHLEEN AMELIA BERTOLLI

Kathleen is a welcome member of any group. For one who has spent only two years at Saint Mary's, she has shown an abundance of school spirit. Since Kathleen does more than she asks of others, her requests for attendance at school games were heeded. She was among the members of the Parish Activities Committee who volunteered to help in the sacristy, and she filled with vigor the position of song leader.

BEVERLY ANN BEUCK

Beverly is kind to everyone and seems to bring out the best in others. She graduated from Fair Oaks Grammar School, and has spent four years at Saint Mary's. She was a member of the Publicity Committee, and was a faithful supporter of school activities. After graduation she plans to go to business college.

IRENE MARIE BOLOGNINI

Irene's twinkling eyes and deep-dimpled smile show her cheerful spirit. She was a member of the Mission and Freshman Reception dance committees, and took part in the Girls' Choir. Her favorite pastime is riding her horse, "Pal."

MARY ANNE CADEMARTORI

Mary Anne can be counted upon even at the oddest moments. Conscientious and competent, she has shown a sincere interest in the Christian Life Committee by her faithful support of noon Rosary. She was always among those who sang in the choir at the nine o'clock Mass each Sunday. She has handled inconspicuous tasks, such as distributing Sunday envelopes, assisting in the parish census, and packing clothes for needy families. Her work for the Kettle was accurate and clear. Mary Anne will bring fine qualities of mind and heart to the career she chooses.

FORTINO MICHAEL CARDENAS

Tino, coming from Edison, joined the class of '51 in the middle of his junior year and within six months was elected to the office of senior class treasurer. While at Saint Mary's he excelled in both baseball and football. Tino's innate courtesy and natural leadership won for him the respect of his classmates. His joining the Navy prevented his attendance at graduation ceremonies.

MARY JANE CARVILLE

Mary Jane is one of the Saint Mary's students who began her education in the first grade at Saint Agnes Grammar School. She appears to be very quiet and retiring, but during her four years she could always be depended upon to lend a helping hand in any class activity. One of the senior girls who wears a diamond on the third finger of her left hand, Mary Jane plans to marry after graduation.

JOYCE IRENE CASTLES

Joyce is a quiet, but never a somber person. Her height is an asset to her as a forward on the Girls' Varsity, and her athletic interests and ability have made her an able president of the G.A.A. In addition to sports, Joyce likes part-singing. She was a member of the "Sextette," a group which brought melody and pleasure to the talent show and to rallies.

THOMAS WILLIAM CASTLES

Tom knows all the charms of idling. Never at a loss for words, he can be counted upon for witty remarks and endless amusement. He is a born entertainer and willingly provided skits and impromptu talks for assemblies. His chief activities in school, however, were in athletics. He was the only senior to be a four letter man in baseball and football. Tom plans to go to C.O.P. after graduation.

ROSE MARIE CECCHINI

A transfer student from Stockton High in her junior year, Rose Marie immediately found her place in Saint Mary's. Besides being a member of the Kettle and Green and White staffs, Rose Marie has maintained a better than average scholastic record. Outspoken but never blunt, she won the honor of being elected vice-president of the senior class.

CAROLYN ANN CIMA

Carolyn is one of the most reliable girls in the senior class. Her sense of responsibility has given her many tasks of importance. She was on the staff of the Sophomore Kettle, and was elected the editor of the Junior Kettle. A staunch supporter of the Literature Committee and an Honor Society member for four years, Carolyn will bring a fine record to Dominican College which she plans to attend after graduation.

BARBARA JEAN COMASKEY

Barbara's four years at Saint Mary's have been well spent. As a member of the "B" and Varsity basketball teams, she took a vital part in the G.A.A. As a senior she has held the post of president of the Parish Activities Committee, page editor for the Kettle and was chosen for the part of the Angel Gabriel in the Christmas play. A willing worker for Saint Mary's, Barbara's name can always be found among those who make school functions successful.

MARY ANN COOMES

Mary has a slow and easy-going manner. Though she never hurries, her work is always done on time. She provided posters for the Publicity Committee, took part in the Literature Committee discussions, and helped with preparations for the Mission dance, "Li'l Jack Frost." A business career lies ahead for Mary.

CARMEN THERESA CORTEZ

Carmen came to Saint Mary's from Edison during her junior year. Although she appears somewhat shy, she is not afraid to express her opinion. A willing worker in the cafeteria, Carmen is dependable and performs the smallest favor with a graciousness characteristic of her Spanish background.

ARMANDO JOSEPH COVELLO

Talented as an artist, "Mondo" has contributed much of his skill to school activities. His drawings have adorned Kettle covers, dance programs and numerous posters. His outstanding characteristic is his appreciation of a humorous situation, which he expresses in a distinctive laugh which is all his own. Armando's aim throughout high school has been to go into business for himself.

SHIRLEY MARIE DELL'ARINGA

Dark-haired and dark-eyed Shirley came to Saint Mary's in her junior year from Stockton High. She was the secretary of the senior class and a Kettle staff member. As head of the decoration committee for the Junior - Senior Prom she showed much artistic ability and ingenuity. Shirley was a devoted fan of the "Rams" and attended nearly all the school games.

MARIAN CHRISTINA DE SARRO

Marian has spent three years at Saint Mary's. After living in Laguna Beach she returned to Stockton in her senior year and was able to graduate with her class. She played Varsity basketball and belonged to the Literature Committee for two years. Marian intends to travel to Colby College in New Hampshire to prepare herself for the work of a laboratory technician.

DAVID WILLIAM DINUBILO

If ever there were a contest at Saint Mary's for the best-dressed boy, David would probably win the prize. On the senior snow trip, David's expert skiing was not admired so much as the kindness and interest he showed to would-be skiers. His well-groomed appearance, his friendliness, and his willingness to participate in entertainments have made David a favorite.

JOSEPH CHRISTOPHER FEDI

After four years experience in his father's clothing store, Joe is one senior whose future is assured. Although his work has prevented his taking part in school sports, he has made up for this by a keen interest in hunting and outdoor life.

PATRICK FORD

As a student at Saint Mary's, Pat has kept up a family tradition. He led his class as president during his freshman year. With a flair for athletics, Pat has spent his leisure time outside school skiing and playing tennis. He has been a member of the "B" basketball team for two years. Next year Pat will enroll at Santa Clara to study law.

DONNA JEAN FREITAS

Blonde-haired, dark-eyed Donna has played an important part at Saint Mary's. She was vice-president of her class as a freshman, and as a junior was elected secretary of the G.A.A. Her four year membership in the Honor Society, together with her ability to work with others made her an excellent choice for the difficult and often thankless position of Kettle Editor.

GERALD BERNARD GABHART

Jerry has handled well the office of Altar Boy President. He spent hours arranging schedules to insure accurate serving lists. The same pains-taking qualities marked his work as Exchange Editor of the Kettle and Treasurer of the Mission Committee. Jerry's next report card will come from Santa Clara.

ROBERT EDMUND GALLO

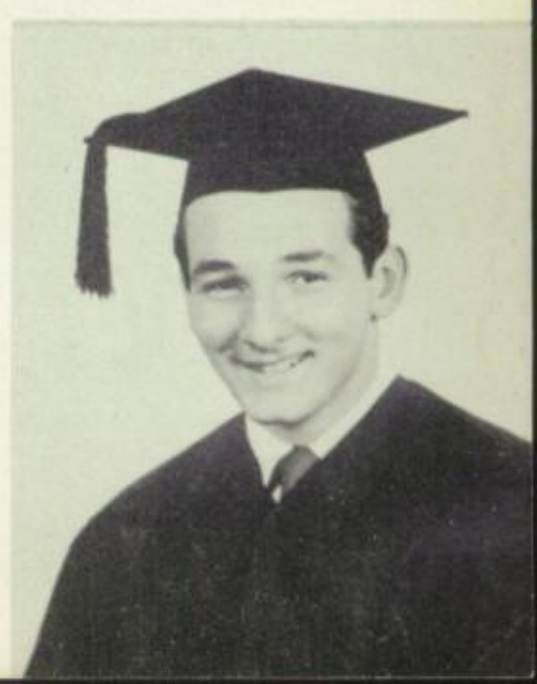
Bob might be called a charter member of the class of '51, since he began his school career in the first grade at Saint Agnes. Since then his carefree attitude has made life pleasant around Saint Mary's. Bob could be described as a "hustler," since he spent his summer vacations and winter leisure working at all Stockton athletic events. Next fall Bob will study at Stockton College.

AURORA GARCIA

Aurora is always quick to help and shows fidelity in performing tasks assigned to her. For four years she has been on the Mission Committee and served as music chairman for the last dance, "Blue Moon Over Tala." A competent typist, Aurora has worked for the sports staff of the Kettle. Her ability to cook tortillas and her Latin heritage enabled Aurora to add an authentic touch to the Spanish luncheons.

DONALD HENRY GARIBALDI

Accordionist Don rose to fame at Saint Mary's with his unusual talent and his willingness to share it. Don's playing has been the highlight of almost every rally. As a proctor he was both strict and fair. If the present world situation does not interfere, Don plans to continue his musical career.

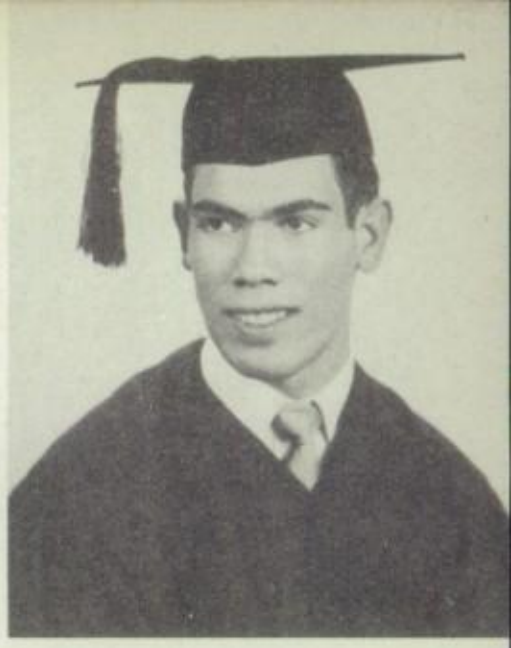


MARY LOU GIANELLI

Mary Lou's easily aroused humor can be seen in her quick and witty remarks. Her participation in activities began when she played basketball as a freshman and was on the "Carousel" dance committee in her sophomore year. As a junior she was secretary both of her class and of the Mission Committee. Upon graduation Mary Lou will begin her training for the nursing profession.

BARBARA JEAN GLYNN

Barbara is usually doing something for someone else. Ever since she came to Saint Mary's from Ursuline Academy in Paloa, Kansas, Barbara has taken an interest in school affairs. As a member of the Literature Committee she spent her leisure time in the library filing, cataloging, and pasting pockets in new books. As an associate editor of the Green and White, she was indefatiguable. Her time was always at the disposal of the staff. Barbara's future studies will be in the field of science.



ERNEST WILLIAM GUERRERO

Ernie, who came to Saint Mary's in his sophomore year, has compiled an admirable record in sports. He has earned membership in the Block S.M. by participating in football, baseball, and basketball. Ernie also has compiled the same record in student activities by being chief proctor and sergeant-at-arms of the senior class.

LOIS JEANNE HECKETHORNE

Lois is gentle and dainty in appearance. She came to Saint Mary's in her senior year from Stockton College. Dancing, especially ballet, is her favorite pastime. Lois intends, after graduation, to continue her study of the dance.

MERILYN JUNE HIRSCH

Merilyn is a person of many interests. She enjoys all sports, but prefers tennis to any other. She is interested in journalism and held responsible editorial positions at Stockton High School which she attended for three years. Outstanding among her talents is her flair for drawing animals, chiefly horses. Merilyn's plans for the future are not definite.

MARY LOU HUTSON

Mary Lou's sparkling blue eyes framed by smart harlequin glasses and soft cury hair were a familiar sight at Saint Mary's. Mary Lou came from Stockton High in her junior year and since then she has had her share of responsibility. She was in charge of the music for "Bamboo" and this year was "Green and White representative for the Freshmen and a member of the Publicity Committee.

JOANN MARILYN ILER

Joann is a happy person with the gift of being sincerely friendly. Gay and apparently carefree, she can be serious. Joann has devoted her energies toward the Parish Activities Committee and Kettle staff. Next year Joann will continue her education at junior college.

CATHERINE VIRGINIA JOHNSON

Catherine's blond hair, blue eyes and soft voice make a quiet harmony. Although she speaks rarely, she always adds something to any conversation. Catherine has worked on dance committees and is interested in music. If her present plans materialize, she will soon be wearing the uniform of the Marines.

MARY LOUISE LE BARBER

Mary Lou is generous with her time as with everything else. Each day she worked industriously in the cafeteria and used her leisure time after school to help the Maryknoll Sisters in their social service work. A member of the Parish Activities Committee, Mary Lou enrolled at Saint Mary's after spending three years at Holy Cross Academy in Woodland.

CAROL ANN LEONARDINI

Carol looks demure as a dove, but her off-hand remarks reveal her lively wit and bright personality. As a freshman she was secretary of her class and played "B" basketball. As a senior, Carol was a feature writer for the Kettle, secretary of the Parish Activities Committee, and a member of the Green and White staff.

LENORE CECELIA LIOTARD

Lenore's dark hair sets off the whiteness of her skin and the deep blue of her eyes. One can find Lenore in almost every school activity. She has done everything from painting Mission Committee dance bids, to maintaining a three-year membership in the Honor Society. Typing and drawing for the Kettle, helping in the cafeteria, and taking part in the Christmas play are a few of Lenore's contributions to Saint Mary's.

VIVIAN THERESA LUCHINI

Vivian can lend herself with enthusiasm to anything she does. She came to Saint Mary's from Holy Cross Academy in Woodland. At Christmas she loaded her car and delivered the food, toys, and clothing collected by the Parish Activities Committee of which she was a member. Vivian's cheerfulness and generosity will prove an asset for her chosen career of a nurse.

KATHLEEN VIVIAN LYONS

Kathleen is tall and regal-looking. Dark hair, blue eyes and rosy cheeks show her Irish ancestry. Her time at Saint Mary's was spent as vice-president of the Parish Activities Committee, and as a member of the Mission and Literature Committees. Kathleen's plans include several years of college before becoming a dental assistant.

DOROTHY IDA MAFFEI

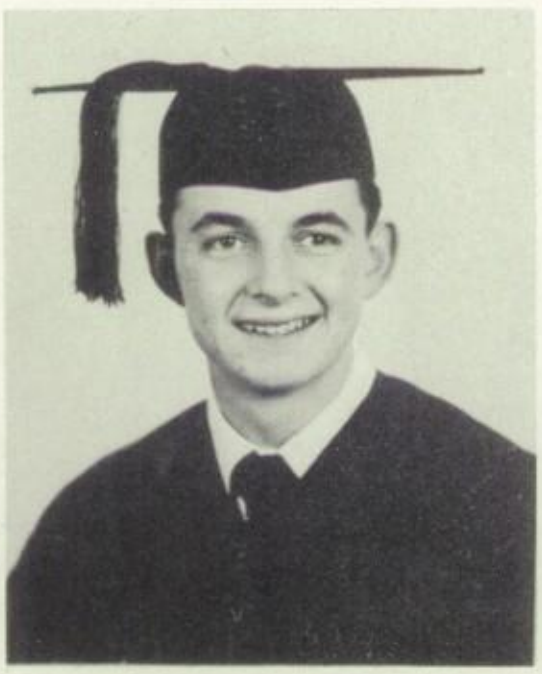
Dorothy's warmth and friendliness make everyone feel at ease. For this reason she has made an ideal office assistant. When Dorothy was in charge of the office, one could be sure that messages would be taken accurately and that every visitor would be received with gracious courtesy. She belonged to the Christian Life Committee, assisted in the cafeteria and made good use of her car by delivering food for the Parish Activities Committee.

PHILIP BERNARD MAGUIRE

Philip is positive in his opinions, yet he sometimes prefers saying "I don't know," to commiting himself. An early riser, he was one of the first to arrive at school in the morning. A vicarious sports fan, Philip was always on hand to cheer his favorite professional teams, as well as the Saint Mary's Rams.

DELIA LENORE MARCHETTI

Delia's amiable disposition and ability to follow through with her plans have won for her positions of responsibility. As assistant editor of the Green and White, she had a large share in making decisions concerning the year book. As chairman of the Federation for Saint Mary's, Delia conducted well-planned meetings. An interest in English has undoubtedly determined Delia's decision to earn a teacher's credential as an English major.



RONALD JOSEPH MARENGO

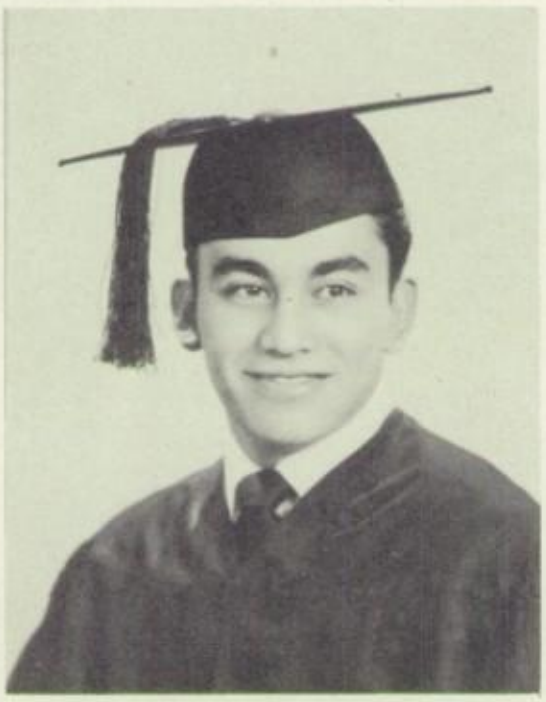
A varsity basketball star for two years, Ronnie has had his say in student affairs as the president of the Block S.M. Through this organization he has helped to arouse school spirit. He took the part of Saint Joseph in the Christmas play and was a master of ceremonies for the Green and White talent show.

GERALDINE ANN MARINO

Geraldine's favorite pastime is singing. A true alto, she was a staunch supporter of the Girls' Choir in her junior year, and later formed an integral part of the "Sextette." Geraldine has not participated in school sports, but none-the-less loves outdoor life. Her one ambition after graduation is to live in the country, preferably the mountains.

BENEDICT FREDERICK MARRACCINI

Ben is best known for his wide grin and his love for sunflower seeds and toothpicks. His high marks in mechanical drawing attest his exceptional ability in that field. As treasurer of the junior class he showed his business acumen by his careful management of the class funds.



GEORGE BENJAMIN MARTIN

A team leader in Varsity football, most of George's activities at Saint Mary's since his transfer from Edison centered on athletics. He played two years of Varsity baseball and one year of "B." He has the rare quality of helpful friendliness.

CARMELLA MARLENE MASSIO

Carmella is tiny and quick with soft brown eyes and short blond hair. She used her energy to help the Mission Committee. Each day after school she hurried to Saint Joseph's to perform her duties as a nurse's aid. After graduation Carmella plans to go to business school.

JOANNE MARY MC DONALD

Joanne looks as if nothing would disrupt the calm and poised look in her blue eyes. Every day Joanne provided a pleasant interruption during 12:30 classes as she made the daily announcements. Her love of neatness, as seen in her grooming, was also seen in her work as assistant editor of the Kettle. After graduation Joanne plans to travel to Washington, D.C.

SALLY FRANCES MC MURRAY

Sally's sunny hair and sunny smile help to show others how approachable she is. Although she seems shy, she is more than willing to give her help when it is needed. She has been a member of the Parish Activities Committee and on the staff of the Green and White. Sally's love for little children has prompted her desire to be an elementary teacher.

ROBERTA ANN MERRITT

There is a freshness about Roberta that shows itself in widely different forms. She enjoys writing, and worked for the Kettle and Green and White staffs. Roberta is impulsive and is wholehearted in all that she does. She has the distinction of being the youngest girl to win a pilot's license.

JEANETTE ANNE MICHAELS

Jeanette is quiet, calm, and efficient. These qualities are almost indispensable for the various tasks given to her. She is one to whom almost any responsibility can be turned over without a worry. A Kettle typist par excellence and Mission Committee press representative, Jeanette has also acted as office assistant. Her fine qualities will be an asset to the career of a secretary, a career for which she is well-fitted.

AURORA GLORIA MURILLO

Aurora might well be a descendant of the great Spanish artist, for some of the most beautiful posters and best Kettle covers ever seen about Saint Mary's have been her work. During her junior year she worked as a cafeteria assistant. Ever since her transfer from Edison High School, Aurora has given unselfishly of her time and talent whenever and wherever needed.

CLAIRE THERESA NEVINS

The first thing one notices about Claire is her red hair and her smile. Clair is quiet, but she could always be depended upon to assist at all Mission Committee functions. An earnest student, Claire has frequently stayed after school in the library to complete her homework assignments. With Genevieve and Elizabeth, she formed a familiar trio at Saint Mary's.

JOSEPHINE MARIE NORIEGA

Josephine's smeet smile was a welcome addition to the cafeteria where she worked daily. She spent four years at Saint Mary's, and was an active member of the Mission Committee. Josephine, who is artistic, drew posters for class dances and helped to design the cover for the Green and White.

GEORGE ADRIAN OLCOMENDY

George may not have been the tallest man on the basketball team, but he was by far one of the most effective in penetrating the enemy's zone. He played three and one-half years on the "B" team and was brought up to the Varsity for the remaining crucial games of the season. George's scoring 26 points in his first Varsity appearance against the champion Stockton Colts will long be remembered in the athletic annals of Saint Mary's.

LEE ALBERT OWNING

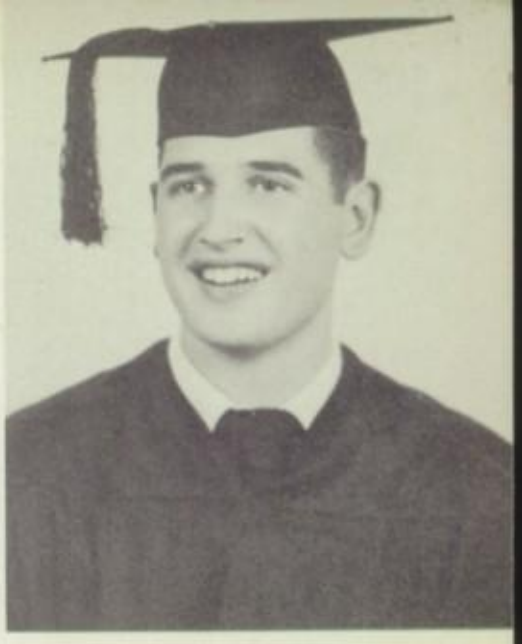
Lee's chief diversions have been mixing unknown substances in the chemistry lab. and fiddling with the physics apparatus. A blue, pinned-together jalopy is one of his most prized possessions and a true landmark of the school. Lee was president of his class during the junior year and proved himself capable of being a future leader in college.

GENEVIEVE ROSE PADAYHAG

This year Genevieve's three year membership in the Mission Committee was climaxed by her election as president. Genevieve is never too busy to be kind, and the smoothness and abundance of Mission activities this year point to her ability to lead without domineering. A sincere student, it seemed characteristic to see Genevieve with an armload of books. She will carry on her interest in learning when she enrolls in college next fall.

GEORGETTE MARIE PANELLI

Although Georgette is just a little over five feet tall, a vital personality accompanies her small stature. In her junior year she was a member of the Kettle staff, and a tireless worker for the Junior-Senior Prom. Her senior year was filled with the same enthusiasm, as she sought patrons for the Green and White, and still found time to work after school.

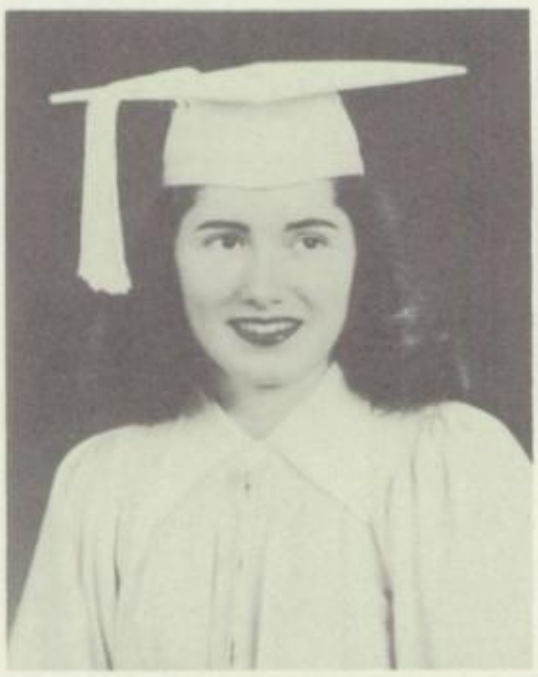


JOHN PAUL PRESTO, JR.

John's achievements have, for the most part, been in the field of athletics. He has played Varsity basketball for three years, held the position of Athletic Commissioner, and took part in the Block S.M. in his senior year. One of John's privileged duties as an upperclassman was driving Monsignor's car. Although this duty took much of John's free time, he enjoyed and profitted from the experiences he thus encountered. Next year John will attend Pasadena Junior College.

NILDA MARY REBOLI

You might well describe Nilda in the usual phrase as "full of life," for she can find humor and activity in almost everything. She spends most of her noon hour relating and acting out anecdotes for her friends. Although Nilda has not been the chairman of any committee, she has added whole-hearted support and real class and school spirit to any propect proposed.



MARY JOAN RICHARDS

Joan has the appearance of one who takes life easy and enjoys it, yet during her years at Saint Mary's she has assisted at many worthwhile functions. She was on the Kettle staff in her sophomore year and was also on the committee for the Kettle dance, "Night Edition." It was her puppy which was raffled three years ago for the benefit of the Kettle fund. As a senior Joan supported the Mission Committee's benefit luncheons and dances.

JOSEPH SARKEES RISHWAIN

Joe is one of the best-liked seniors. Full of school spirit himself, he is able to interest others in whatever is beneficial to Saint Mary's. A Varsity football player, Joe was a four letter man in baseball, and also played "B" basketball. His experience on the playing field made him an able and interested sports editor for the Kettle.

SHIRLEY LOUISE SILVANI

Generosity is the keynote of Shirley's character. As chairman of the bid committee for the junior dance "Bamboo," her work of cutting and drying bamboo stalks provided the most unusual bids for any school dance. For the Green and White, she worked with enthusiasm and interest. Many of the character sketches for the year book were written by Shirley. It would be a difficult task to list the activities in which she has taken part; it can be said with certainty that her willingness to work has been a great asset to the class of 1951.

ELIZABETH ANN SIMON

Elizabeth came to Saint Mary's from West Virginia, but loves California as much as any native daughter. She has been a diligent worker at the Christmas bazaars. For the past year Elizabeth has maintained order at the Mission meetings in her capacity as sergeant-at-arms.

JOSEPHINE JUNE SMITH

The most likeable thing about June is her sincerity. Although she is frank and firm in her opinion, she forms her decisions only after much thought. She is industrious and ambitious. That her work is done thoroughly can be seen by her membership in the Honor Society. June joined the Literature Committee in her senior year.

RAMONA THERESA VALVERDE

Ramona has shiny black hair, dark eyes, and a fair-skinned, oval face. She has been a member of the Mission and Publicity Committees. Ramona loves discussions and has definite ideas which she expresses vividly. When not exchanging opinions, Ramona delights in astonishing her listeners with a catalogue of her numerous cousins. After graduation Ramona will launch upon a business career.

BARBARA LOU VOITICH

Barbara's well-tailored clothes show her love for the outdoors. She rose early each morning in order to be able to exercise her horse, "Laddie," and still be on time for chemistry. Her good-natured generosity will be remembered by many a senior girl who crowded into the familiar blue Mercury at noon time. Barbara's future career will probably be that of a nurse.

FRANCIS RAYMOND WALLACE

Frank's good nature can be seen in his easy-going acceptance of his numerous nicknames. Since his grammar school days, he has been a basketball enthusiast. While in high school, Frank was class treasurer in his freshman year, and played Varsity basketball for two years. After graduation he will travel East for further training, before assuming duties in his family's laundries.

Mission Committee . . .

The Mission Committee is the largest of all the committees, since there are over fifty members. This group encourages both spiritual and material help for foreign missions. Besides praying for missionaries, the members of the committee distribute mite boxes, sponsor a dance each year, and give a Mission Day Luncheon in the school cafeteria. All proceeds from these affairs are given to the missions.

Publicity Committee . . .

The Publicity Committee, while a part of the Federation, extends its services to all school activities. Posters for every school function are supplied by this group. Deserving particular mention was the display of the posters made for vocations during the month of March.

Parish Activities Committee . . .

The Parish Activities Committee consists of thirty girls who help parish priests in clerical work such as distributing and addressing Sunday envelopes, taking the parish census, and assisting in the sacristy. In addition to these tasks, each year at Christmas, the members donate food, clothing, and toys which are given to a needy family.

Out of Town Meetings...

Every month students from Saint Mary's travel to other Catholic schools in Northern California to take part in general

Catholic Federation

Christian Life Committee . . .

The Function of the Christian Life Committee is wholly spiritual. Under its sponsorship the recitation of the Rosary each day at noon has brought about increased devotion to Our Lady of Fatima. Once a week the members assist at Mass, receive Holy Communion, and offer their prayers for world peace.

Federation President . . .

The Federation of Catholic High Schools, with its various committees, holds an important place in school life at Saint Mary's. This year Delia Marchetti held the office of President of the Saint Mary's Unit of the Catholic Federation.

meetings. Although these schools are usually many miles from Stockton, the experience of meeting and exchanging ideas with other Catholic students makes Federation trips both profitable and enjoyable.

Literature Committee . . .

The members of the Literature Committee, have, by their monthly meetings and discussions done much to encourage the reading of good books. During Book Week and Catholic Press Month the displays and posters of this committee directed students to the writings of representative Catholic authors.
